

Wisdom

Dyre Haugen

2021-10-03

Contents

1	Wisdom	5
2	The Legacy of my Generation	7
3	Scope and Perspective	11
4	Holism, not Marginalism	13
5	Concepts	15
5.1	Complexity	15
6	Control	17
7	Adage	19
I	Appendices	21
A	About	23
B	Links	25
C	NEWS	27

1

Wisdom

2

The Legacy of my Generation

Picture: 'Betrayal' by Mario Sánchez Nevado

Tremendous harm has been done to the planet.

I fall into tears when I think about the harm my generation has done to nature.

How could it happen? How could it end up so badly, so harmful? Certainly Narrowness of scope and perspective is part of the explanation.

3

Scope and Perspective

The single moment to live, to - carpe diem - should not be - single -.
Consciousness of Time and Space should - at any moment - be: Eternity and Infinity

Thinking long-term rather than short-term.
Thinking in generations rather than thinking in years or quarters.

Thinking globally even when acting locally.

“The Red Nation’s tagline reads ‘All Relatives Forever’, with relatives here referring to both human and nonhuman persons. Consider the implications of such a politics; it is profound – far more radical, and far more inspiring and enriching, than traditional leftist discourse.” (Jason Hickel)

4

Holism, not Marginalism

memo: Lavthengende frukt Gjenoppbygging etter krigen

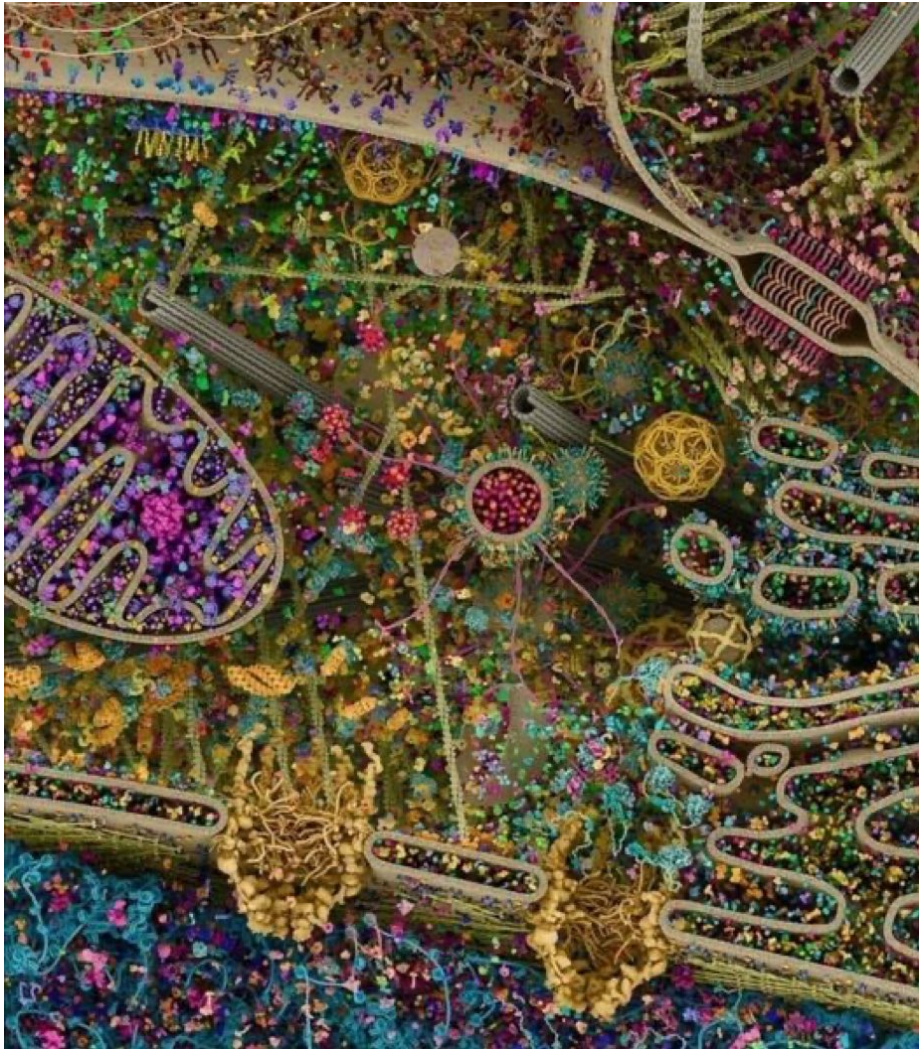

5

Concepts

“People need to be bold enough to use the word. Angela Davis said ‘One of the greatest challenges of any social movement is to develop new vocabularies.’ Words like degrowth enable new thinking and analysis, and we need that now more than ever.”

5.1 Complexity

This 3D rendering of a eukaryotic cell is modeled using data from X-ray, nuclear magnetic resonance and cryo-electron microscopy. Though the researchers weren’t able to capture all of the cell’s complexity, it is an attempt to visualize the myriad systems involved in cellular life.

John Hopkins

6

Control

Modern bourgeois society with its relations of production, exchange and property, a society that has conjured up such gigantic means of production and exchange, is like the sorcerer who is no longer able to control the powers of the netherworld whom he has called up by his spells. (Marx)

7

Adage

Work for the Planet, not for the Bottom Line

Part I

Appendices

Appendix A

About

Dyre Haugen and Dyrehaugen is Webian for Jon Martin - self-owned Globian, Webian, Norwegian and Canarian with a background from industrial research policy, urban planning and economic development consulting on global, regional and urban scales. I am deeply concerned about the (insane) way humanity (i.e. capitalism) interfere with nature. In an effort to gain insights in how and why this happens stuff is collected from around the web and put together in a linked set of web-sites. The sites are operated as personal notebooks. However, these days things can be easily published to the benefit of others concerned with the same issues. But be aware - this is not polished for presentation or peer-reviewed for exactness. I offer you just to have a look at my 'work-desk' as it appears in the moment. Any comment or suggestion can be mailed to dyrehaugen@gmail.com You can follow me on twitter as @dyrehaugen. Thanks for visiting!

Appendix B

Links

Current Dyrehaugen Sites:

- rcap - On Capitalism (loc)
- rclm - On Climate Change (loc)
- recs - On Economics (loc)
- rfin - On Finance (loc)
- rngy - On Energy (loc)
- renv - On Environment (loc)
- rstb - On Statistics (loc)
- rurb - On Urbanization (loc)
- rvar - On Varia (loc)
- rwsd - On Wisdom (loc)

Blogs:

- rde - Blog in English (loc)
- rdn - Blog in Norwegian (loc)

Discontinued:

- jdt - Collection (Jekyll) (loc)
- hdt - Collection (Hugo) (loc)

Not listed:

- (q:) dhe dhv jrw56
- (z:) rcsa rpad rstart

Appendix C

NEWS